DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 1, where the penetrating tip is a complex hollow shape and open.

B. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 2, where the penetrating tip is closed by a metal cap.

C. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 3, where the penetrating tip is closed by a solid tip insert.

D. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 4, where the penetrating tip does not have a recess.

E. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 5, where the penetrating tip has a shallow conical recess.

2. Upon election of one of the above species A-E, applicant is further required to elect from the following species, as they also are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

i. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 6, of the design of the nose shape of the projectile core.

Art Unit: 3644

ii. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 7, of the design of the nose shape of the projectile core.

iii. The embodiment, as viewed in Figure 8, of the design of the nose shape of the projectile core.

3. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: In the present case there is no common "special technical feature" because the general inventive concept set forth in claims such as 47 and 69, does not define over the teachings of the prior art set forth in USPN 1,134,797.

4. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

5. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claims are generic: 47 and 69.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Susan C. Alimenti whose telephone number is 571-272-6897. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 9am-5pm.
